DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1 and 2 are allowed over the prior art. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Prior art of Obara, Yoshimura et al., and In re Aller disclose the all the limitations of Independent Claims 1 and 2 of the motor having a stator and a rotor that is covered by a housing, a ball bearing between a housing and a shaft, an inner peripheral surface for the housing, a bearing with inner and outer race, an inner race having an inner peripheral surface, an outer race having an outer peripheral surface, the inner race being fixed to the shaft through press-fitting between the outer peripheral surface of shaft and inner peripheral surface inner race, the outer race being fixed to the housing through press-fitting between outer peripheral surface of outer race and inner peripheral surface of housing, an outer knurled portion of the peripheral surface in which the inner race is fixed to the shaft through one press-fit and by an adhesive between the outer peripheral surface of the shaft and the inner peripheral surface of the inner race for the purpose of the knurls help providing a reliable bond between the inner race and the shaft.

However, Prior art does not disclose that a relationship of the number of balls in the ball bearing with respect to the number of knurled grooves that would show a case of prima facie obviousness.
